

Environmental School
Chairman
Nancy Richards
January 9, 2018

The state of Florida currently has 61 Environmental Consultants in good standing and two who have been granted Emeritus status.

A new school is scheduled to start in March. Sally Flanagan is chairing Course 1, The Living Earth, on March 19 and 20 in New Smyrna Beach. Sally has lined up an impressive roster of instructors to teach this course, which covers the basics of environmental education.

The Deep South convention is offering a terrific opportunity to refresh this spring with a Tri-Refresher. This set of classes and discussions promises to be worthwhile for consultants in the environmental school, as well as gardening schools and landscape design. This event will be held March 11-13 in Jekyll Island, Georgia.

This chairman has been contacting all those who are in need of a refresher, as well as those who need Course 1 to complete their courses to become a consultant.

SUMMARY - The number of consultants in the Environmental School has been growing, and consultants have two opportunities in the near future to refresh and retain their good standing status.